You are invited to attend a

Two-Piano Recital

to be given on

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 8, 1950

at 8:00 o'clock

by the

Progressive Series Pupils

of

HAZEL SMITH SCOTT and

LOIS SMITH BENSON

CHURCH of CHRIST

13259 Sorrento Ave. Detroit, Michigan

Corner of Davison Ave.,

2 blocks north of Grand River Ave.

The students participating in this recital are receiving their training in music from a Progressive Series Teacher. Not only are these students being taught to play the piano acceptably, but through their study of the Progressive Series of Piano Lessons, they are receiving AN EDUCATION IN MUSIC.

Piano students taught according to the Progressive Series Plan of Music Education make rapid progress at the instrument. They play with understanding because they are schooled in the fundamental principles of musicianship, and regardless of the use the student expects to make of his music, an understanding of basic principles is just as important in music study as it is in the study of mathematics or of English.

Even those not specially gifted in music can enjoy and benefit from music study the Progressive Series way. And needless to say, the more talented the individual, the farther he can go, musically speaking. In any case, a well qualified teacher is a necessity. And since certification to teach Progressive Series is granted only to teachers who pass certain comprehensive examinations in theory and in applied music, the piano student who is privileged to study with a Progressive Series Teacher is in good hands.
